EXCHANGES

Challenge

Exchanges are the hub of the trading world, but even these venues are not immune to the capricious nature of the ultra-competitive securities marketplace. In order to thrive, exchanges must differentiate themselves from other rival trading venues with fungible securities and products. They need to extend their value by offering risk management capabilities as well as execution - but while this helps to maintain and grow marketshare, it also brings its own challenges.

Solution

Mantara's expressWay™ can help. Our integrated suite of ultra-low latency products meet the risk, market data and connectivity needs of exchanges helping to deliver a robust risk management solution.

expressWay

- ▶ expressWay Risk gives a holistic view of risk and helps achieve regulatory compliance. It delivers the ability to run risk checks on all orders at the exchange matching engine. It also gives the exchange the ability to offer risk management powered by cutting edge technology to their members.
- ▶ expressWay Market Data helps distribute normalized market data to exchange clients, quickly and efficiently.
- ▶ expressWay Connectivity brings it all together and delivers ultra-low latency market access.

Impact

Using expressWay can help exchanges offer a more complete and powerful risk management solution to their clients, which can positively impact revenue and create a stickier client base.
